

PRIVATE COOKING CLASS GIFT CERTIFICATE OPTIONS

For birthdays, anniversaries and other special occasions, most people tend to gift a single 2-hour or 3-hour in-home cooking experience (class) to either an individual or a couple. Once the gift has been given there is always an option for the "giftee" to add to that when they claim the gift if they, for example, want a 3 hour class instead of 2, or want to learn a non-vegetarian dish instead of a vegetarian one.

Gift Certificate Options:

2 hour Veg (3 dishes) - $ 165 per person / $ 220 per couple

3 hour Veg (4 dishes) - $ 210 per person / $ 290 per couple

2 hour Non-veg (3 dishes, 1 NV) - $ 175 per person / $ 230 per couple

3 hour Non-Veg (4 dishes, 2 NV) - $ 225 per person / $ 310 per couple

2 hour Seafood (3 dishes, 1 seafood) - $ 190 per person / $ 250 per couple

3 hour Seafood (4 dishes, 2 seafood) - $ 240 per person / $ 330 per couple

Once the recipient of the certificate contacts me and schedules the class, we work together to personalize the menu, with most of the input from the client, based on their tastes and preferences.

The prices quoted include all consultation as well as me, the Chef, going to the client's home (ITP) (or any other appointed kitchen if there's a better one! For example, 1 client who received a gift cert from her mom ended up cooking in the mom's kitchen rather than her own) with all recipes, fresh and dry ingredients as well as any specialist equipment that may be needed for the class. We cook together and I leave right after the class so they can enjoy the spoils! Pretty simple really :)

Some people also often choose to tack on either or both of 2 additional options:

1. $75-$100 for an assistant (depending on the length of the class). This person would help with the class set up, cleaning and help prep as we go along (a lot of dishes can accumulate!) and, with my help, clean up completely once the class is done, placing the cooked food into dishes etc etc. This can be a real treat as nobody wants to be left with a kitchen to clean after a fun cooking class! However, many people don't mind that part at all and I do my best to work with them as the class progresses to keep things neat and tidy :)
2. A grocery store tour (either Mediterranean or Indian) either on the same day of the cooking class or on another mutually convenient day. The tours are $50 per person or $75 per couple and take just over 2 hours.

Testimonials from past clients have shown that for those who have either booked a class independently or received it as a gift, cooking with a private Chef in the comfort of one's own kitchen is a really enjoyable experience and imbues one with a sense of confidence in their culinary ability, especially as it applies to esoteric foods and spices.

I hope you will consider this as a gift for a foodie friend or loved one! Please contact Chef Naina if you have any further queries ~ 404.565.9169 or kesarkitchen@gmail.com
